Empathizing with the life's intentions of a personage and inspired by nature's benefits to humankind, LaStevia is committed to providing a high-value proposition of these nature's perks to society and ensuring sustainability along the journey of life.

Our mission is simple: To indulge humankind in the full sweetness of life and providing innovative choices for lasting health.

The purest form of natural stevia extracts and other natural ingredients formulate LaStevia sweeteners. Premium quality food additives needed for the sweeteners are imported from European Union and used. LaStevia is a "no compromise sweetener". Reducing the inherent aftertaste of stevia is the focus of our research and development. Superior grade Thaumatococcus and Monkfruit extracts derived from plants are imported to give LaStevia sweeteners a unique "honeydew" flavour and taste.

Go ahead, take pleasure in the La Stevia experience.

Stevia is a nutrient and sweetness rich herbaceous plant. It belongs to the Compositae family. Wildly growing around the rain-forests in Paraguay, the Guarani people of Paraguay have been using this herb for more than 1500 years both for its sweet taste and other medicinal benefits. Almost all the parts of the stevia plant taste intensely sweet. The sweetness is more concentrated in the leaves. The leaves contain many glycosides, rebaudioside and other nutrients. These contribute to the sweetness and the medicinal value. These steviol glycosides and rebaudioside are 300 times sweeter than sugar relatively.

The scientific name of stevia is Stevia rebaudiana Bertoni. It's commonly known as Sweetleaf, Sweet Tulsi, Meetha Tulsi, etc.

Stevia is a zero-calorie

Stevia is generally regarded as Safe (GRAS) by FDA and approved by JCEFA, FSSAI, FDA, EFSA, Health Canada, AFSSA, CAC, FSANZ, etc

natural sweetener. It does not spike the insulin levels in the blood, thus making it a perfect choice for those with diabetes and other non-diabetic health-conscious people. Stevia also aids in digestion, relieving upset stomach, strengthening blood vessels, improving blood coagulation, cell regeneration, averting dental cavities and improving skin tone. Stevia is rich in antioxidants and possesses anti-microbial properties.

THE LUO HAN GUO STORY AND THE THAUMATIN EFFECT

Luo Han Guo (Monkfruit) is a small sub-tropical melon of the Cucurbitaceae family cultivated in China for centuries. The natural fruit extract Mogrosides is 200 - 300 times sweeter than sugar and has no calorific values. The principal molecules give a unique 'honey dew' taste.

The miracle sweetener Thaumatococcus daniellii comprises several related proteins extracted from the Katemfe fruit of the very rarely found native African plant Thaumatococcus daniellii. The pulp of the arils of the fruit contains thaumatin proteins. It is used as a sweetener, flavour modifier and flavour enhancer in West African cuisines for many decades. It is 3000 times sweeter than sugar. The flavour modifying, and enhancing property of Thaumatin when blended with the glycosides and rebaudioside of stevia sweetener, in minuscule proportion, creates a game-changing outcome. Commercially available Thaumatin is generally regarded as safe (GRAS) and approved by FSSAI, FDA and many other countries.

Based on their research and development, LaStevia found a unique formulation and enlightened the consumers to indulge in the sweetness without any guilt of adding sugar and calories to their diet.
